

Do you have fresh produce you would like to donate to others in Guilford County?

Share the Harvest of Guilford County is an all-volunteer organization that exists to collect and distribute locally grown surplus produce to those who are experiencing hunger in our community through a network of local service agencies. Share the Harvest works closely with community gardeners, church gardens, farmers, and individual gardeners.

For more information about collection site locations and times or to volunteer, please visit our website at Share the Harvest, Guilford County or email Linda Anderson landersonsth20@gmail.com.

The Greater High Point Food Alliance maintains a list of food pantries in the greater High Point area that accept fresh produce donations. Each listing will include the location, time frame for donations, contact information, and special instructions.